Melinda's Corner

Happy New Year everyone! Greetings from a very wet Kentucky!

I happily report that the ABC continues to operate in the black. The coming year will be another challenge, but I am confident that we are on a path of continued growth. My goals this year are to continue to rebuild our membership and to publish the long awaited Studbook. The economy continues to show improvement and, with that, maybe our efforts to sell Curly horses will do so as well.

In April, the American Bashkir Curly horse will once again be represented at the Equine Affaire in the Breed Pavilion. Carol Baldwin, 5th District Representative, is bringing horses to the Columbus, Ohio, show from her home in Michigan. I will be in attendance to assist with the booth. For a small donation, we will add your farm or sale materials to the booth. If anyone would like to help during the four-day event, please contact Carol or myself for information.

I would like to thank Marlene and Bruce Tilson for representing the American Bashkir Curly Horse at the Canadian Royal Agricultural Winter Fair. This is a test of endurance, lasting more than a week. I can't imagine how exhausted they must have been when they returned home!

On a more serious note, I want to thank those of you who defended the ABCR and its Board members against the verbal assault in the online chat groups. I appreciate your efforts, although I am sad to think that this ugliness was in such a public forum. This kind of negativity does nothing but hurt the breed in the eyes of the public. Our horses deserve better. You deserve better. The folks willing to volunteer their time to this Registry, deserve better!

Respectfully yours,
Melinda Martino, President

Reminder: Let's put the Curly Horse in the National Cowgirl Museum's Hall of Fame!

Isn't it about time Curly reached the Hall of Fame, in Texas? We are planning to nominate Sunny Martin for the National Cowgirl Museum Hall of Fame. Not only will this give recognition to her many contributions to the beginnings of the ABC Registry, but will also acknowledge the Registry in a public forum, give us name recognition, and of course be great advertising for the Registry. Angie Gaines has already submitted her nomination, but needs your support in the form of letters, which will be discussed by the Board of the Hall of Fame. Please be sure to support this effort! Write your letter today and send to Angie at 7480 CR 4095, Kaufman, Texas, USA 75142 or email angie@goldencurlsranch.com. She will forward them to the appropriate address. For more information:

Curly Cues

Ohio Equine Affaire

Attention Curly Horse Breeders and Members

The American Bashkir Curly Horse will be represented in the Breed Pavilion at the Ohio Equine Affaire, which runs April 12-15 2012. We are asking for your help.

The Affaire is a four day event that draws tens of thousands of horse enthusiasts from across the midwest. Top clinicians (John and Josh Lyons, Julie Goodnight, Craig Johnson and Al Dunning, to name a few from past Affaires) participate.

The Affaire hosts hundreds of vendor booths selling a multitude of items from saddles to the latest bling. An evening performance of FANTASIA highlights the talent and beauty of the horse and rider.

How can you help?

You can help by making a donation in exchange for distribution of your brochure at the Ohio Equine Affaire. For a donation of $100, we will display and distribute your brochure at our booth in the Breed Pavilion.

If the donation amount is more than you care to spend, we will accept any help you can afford.

Methods of Payment and Next Steps

By check – please send to:

Diane Mitchell, ABC Treasurer,

Toronto's Royal Agricultural Winter Fair

In November 2011, Tall Trees Curlys once again participated in Toronto's Royal Agriculture Winter Fair, a highlight of which is the Royal Horse Show. This annual event runs for 10 days each November, and is held at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds in downtown Toronto, Canada. Bruce Tilson hosted the booth, and welcomed a large number of current owners and Curly enthusiasts, while also promoting the breed to those who had never heard of Curly horses or who were unaware of their many attributes. Here are pictures from the event:

The Wonder of the Curly Horse

By June Cicero – Neustadt, Ontario, Canada

I am the new owner of a Curly mare called Lucy. We've been together just over a month but already the ties are strong, at least for me...I'm not sure about her. I have owned my own horse for the past 14 years. I love horses, riding and riding vacations. I'm not particular about breed or colour; I just want a short, smart, solid, smooth partner.

My husband and I were in the market for new horses, as we had sold our 2 riding horses before leaving British Columbia, Canada, in April. We had our new 'horse' property and were keen to have horses back in our yard and our lives. Thankfully, we were able to reconnect with a former trail buddy who invited us to join a three-day ride the end of September. My friend knew the style of horse I preferred and set me up with Lucy for the ride.

At first sight, I was sceptical: I'm not fond of pintos, especially those with more white than colour. But her face wasn't bald and she didn't have any blue eyes, so that was a plus. And she was very good under saddle – not complicated, mindful of her rider and ready to work. And work she did. The second day of the ride, after getting a little lost, we had to climb a steep incline. This wouldn't have been such a problem except for the fallen leaves and heavy rains over the previous days. It was too steep to climb straight up, and the footing was not good to 'switchback' our way out. We dismounted and, rather than try to crawl up, weaving through trees with a horse in tow (I'm not a hiker). I simply secured my reins and let Lucy walk up on her own. She didn't panic, fuss or barge; she simply took to the task of hauling herself up to the top. And waited patiently for me to arrive.

I was pretty much sold on Lucy after the first day and more confident about my decision after the second day. The third day was another success, with her nice, long, smooth lope (smooth is a critical quality for me). She was a good size, age and temperament, and the price was right. I'd never seen any Curlies before, but I had heard of them. I could sympathize with her 'bad hair'. I am blessed (or cursed) with fine, dry, curly hair. So I could identify with her mane – a mess of unmanageable curls. It was a good match. I didn't know it would be a great one.

We only got out for one more ride and then the rains came...and came...and came. We were busy getting buildings and fencing erected to bring in our horses. Finally they arrived, Lucy and George, on November 3. The weather gods blessed us with some decent riding temperatures and some of the water had dried up. So on November 6, we excitedly mounted up for a ride on our property, along grassy paths and through wooded forest trails. It was WONDERFUL! To be back in the saddle on our own horses – something we hadn't done since January. And we hadn't known when it might happen again. It was such a good feeling; we didn't want it to end. Everything was special. So we decided to extend our ride and headed to the west side of our forested trail, one we hadn't walked in a while due to some heavily flooded sections.

We came to a bog. There was an old rusted culvert, above ground, and I wanted to skirt it, as I didn't want my new horse injured. Around to the right we went, but I guess I should have sought out higher ground. Down went poor Lucy, up to her belly in gooey, black mud! Because her back end was on more solid ground, my upper body was balanced over her neck with no hope of repositioning my weight backward. I took the only possible option: I bailed, into the soft, wet, black mud, under Lucy's neck, in front of her submerged front legs. I was apprehensive, but that little Curly lifted each foot and walked right over me without even a nudge. I'm not tall at 5' 4", and I tried to be as small as I could, but Lucy is short bodied and only 14-1 HH.

I've seen horses exit mud. They often hurry through, bound or jump, without thought to what's around them. None of that from Lucy; she just got the job done, and then stood waiting for further instruction. I pulled myself from the mud, thanked my good little horse, and then had to determine how we might get back, as the boggy spot was between us and home. I secured her reins and walked my way back over the culvert, without Lucy. Once on the other side, I turned and called her to me. She came, walking in my steps with careful determination and no fear or tension. Thankfully she didn't break through the culvert. I remounted and we continued, uneventfully, home.

I cannot believe my good fortune in finding this little horse. We have been out on only one ride since the bog incident – it is still raining here. We stuck to the road where there's not so much chance of deep mud! We're hoping for snow that stays, and I'm sure that Lucy will be reliable in any situation that presents itself. And there is another possible bonus: of our eight grandchildren, one has various allergies, including horses. We are interested to see if Lucy could be an added bonus for him.

I am excited and confident about travelling the trails with this wonderful 'Curly girly' and learning what I can about Curlies and Lucy!

The History of the Gaited Curly Horse

By Diane Mitchell (with thanks to those who answered her many questions!)

I was asked by our illustrious President to please write an article on the gaited Curly. I agreed, thinking this would be an easy task. I bit off more than I could chew – way more! Why? I have looked in our history, and can't find any article dedicated to the gaited Curly. I have saved the many magazine articles written over the 18 years I have been a member, and I could find only two that mentioned, briefly, the gaited Curly. One magazine dedicated a paragraph of three sentences to the gaited Curly and that was the most I could find!

So, I have dug into the Registry's past, back to the 1970s. There were so few Curlies that out-crossing was allowed, and encouraged. At that time, there seemed to be many Missouri Fox Trotters that were showing curl. They were in, if people didn't destroy them. Many Curlies were coming from the mustang herds around Nevada. A lot of these horses have Spanish ancestry. The Spanish are noted for having gaited horses, and there were many mustangs that had a gait of some type. Other breeds that were known for gaiting that have been mixed in with Curly horses are the Morgan and the Appaloosa. The Morgan wasn't known originally as a gaited horse, and still isn't today, yet there are many that do gait, and the Morgan Horse Association is making room for them and acknowledging them. The Appaloosa did an Indian Shuffle, which is also common among the Curly horse. Some Mustangs do this Indian Shuffle, too. Once these horses were crossed with the Quarter Horse, and other trotting breeds, they lost the gait or shuffle.

As I have described these breeds, I have also described types of gait. I am not going to go into a lot of detail, as there are many books out there that have already done this. Suffice it to say that if someone says their Curly gaits, you may want to ask, "Which gait do they do?" There is a foxtrot, which is expected, but not always evident, in the Fox Trotter. Some will do a running walk – I myself owned a Fox Trotter that is curly, and she has a running walk that any Tennessee Walker would die for! Some Curlies do the Indian Shuffle. This requires some work out of the rider to get them into it, as it seems to be a balance between the walk and trot. If a rider doesn't ask them, they will just go straight from a walk to a trot, and totally miss the shuffle. There is also a running walk, a stepping pace (which my stallion Copper Sun does), and a singlefoot, although some people like to use the term 'singlefoot' to say they gait.

The earliest known gaited Curly to my knowledge is Benny Damele's Copper D. He sired many horses, not all having a gait or a shuffle, yet some did. The most popular mare that did was The Copper Mare. She did the Indian Shuffle, and that was given to many of her get. Al Seigrist bought two mares from Benny Damele that had Copper D as their sire. Those he bred to Fox Trotter Curlies. The resulting foals did the foxtrot. There was also an Appaloosa stallion whose name is hard to spell or pronounce. One of his get was Four Mile Knick Knack. He also did the Indian Shuffle and, when bred to Curly mares, passed the shuffle along. Among the Curly Fox Trotter lines, there is a name that seems to stick out among the pedigree of most of the Curly Fox Trotters: that is Curly Jim. The most popular from Curly Jim lines are Walker's Prince T, Sir Patrick, Lovely Lady and Star's Lucky Touch.

The most difficult to follow are the Curly Mustang lines. Of course, they didn't keep records! But their background, having some Spanish blood, should help them into a gait, if not a shuffle. Recently, DNA genetic history tests have been done on these mustangs. There is European blood in there, but also Spanish. My stallion, BB Copper Sun, whose dam is The Copper Mare, had his DNA show mostly Morgan and Paso Fino. The Paso Fino is Spanish and, as mentioned before, the Appaloosa that has mixed into any Mustang out there has been known to shuffle. I have heard that the original Appaloosa was a gaited horse and, once they bred them to other gaited breeds, the gait came back easily.

Breeders of gaited Curly horses may have a mix of the mustang, the Fox Trotter, and the Appaloosa in their breeding stock. Maybe not all of the above, but the breeders have one thing in common: they breed for gait as well as curls, working hard to keep the wonderful Curly personality and good conformation. A struggle at times, but extremely rewarding when it all comes together!

Gaited Curly Horses ... Myths and Facts

By Marv Woodke

Over the years, I have had many inquiries and interest in Curly horses. It's surprising to me that many are skeptical of gaited horses; add to this the curls and some I think imagine them as some mystical equine.

Since the time we had a Tennessee Walker when I was a kid (very swayback), I learned to also look at a horse without a saddle when buying. Gaited horses seem natural to me. So especially as I get older, I don't understand why people like trotting horses.

There are two main gaits in Curlies from what I know: the western shuffle and the fox trot.

I have at least one mare that exhibits the western gait (Hammerickx Appaloosa) but haven't ridden her and don't have much knowledge of it. The foxtrot is a smooth but powerful gait. My stallion, Drifter, exhibits this and is still the best riding horse I have ever ridden. I have ridden on trails with all kinds of horses and done fine.

Some myths are:

- They don't canter.
- They can't be ridden on trails with other horses.
- Recessive fox trotters are genetically defective.

Facts:

- Fox trotters were developed as easy-riding cow horses.
- There were two main Curly fox trotter foundation bloodlines:
 1. Walker's Prince T, going back to Curly Jim and Walker's Merry Lad
 2. Sir Patrick, going back to Zane Grey, a champion fox trotter.
- They can canter ... but why, when they have a smooth, fast gait.
- I saw a registered recessive fox trotter once with no defects but some bloodlines might.
- Breeding gaited with non-gaited produces mixed results.

I think gaited Curlies can continue improvement within the breed.

From my experience in breeding cattle and horses, more bloodlines with characteristics that you are breeding for results in more offspring of the same characteristics, such as temperament and curls.

Will Her Majesty the Queen soon acquire a Curly horse?

By Marlene Tilson, Tall Trees Farm Curly Horses

This letter from the Royal Family came into our mailbox recently, in response to our letter sent to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth about American Bashkir Curlies being hypo-allergenic. We were really pleased to be able to inform the Royal household of this fact because the new princess, Kate Middleton, is highly allergic to horses. It was a fun thing to mail Her Majesty a letter and also to get a reply back. Very exciting to know that the Queen and the Duke of Cambridge now know what a "Curly" is...a horse of course! In their response, the Queen, and also her grandson Prince William [Duke of Cambridge], thanked us for informing them about the American Bashkir Curlies. So if someone does sell them a Curly, won't that be wonderful?

Greetings and Happy New Year from District 9

Curly Cues

Attention: All ABC Members

Due to the economy and increasing cost burden of Curly Cues, beginning in June of 2012, the newsletter will be incorporated into a page in the Equine Journal magazine.

All paid members as of March 31, 2012, will receive a one-year subscription to the Equine Journal included with their membership.

This subscription will include benefits such as some free advertising for each member. Life members can be included as well for just $10/year. There will be a page each month specifically for "Curly Cues News".

To receive a full year's subscription membership, dues must be paid by March 31. Articles and pictures can be submitted monthly for publication. Breeders will be listed on a periodic basis. Curly Cues will then no longer be published.

Currently, the Equine Journal is not sent to Canada or Europe. We are working on a solution to this issue. If anyone has an idea, feel free to contact the Board.

Current members can look for a free introductory subscription for the months of November and December of this year!

Curly Cues

CURLY CUES CLASSIFIED AND PAGE ADVERTISING

All ads must be submitted to the editor (the.write.type@sympatico.ca) by the 1st of the month prior to each issue. Deadlines: January 1; April 1; July 1; and October 1. We must be notified by the deadline if you want an ad rerun. Only ABC, or ABCR-eligible horses can be advertised. Ads will appear on the website at no additional cost. Check with editor to be sure graphics are compatible with Curly Cues' software.

PAYMENTS: Ads must be prepaid or they will not run. Payment methods:

1. Make check payable to ABCR, and mail to 71 Cavalier Blvd, Suite 124, Florence, KY 41042
2. Pay through PayPal: paypal@abcregistry.org. Be sure to put in the 'message' section it is for a CC ad.
3. Call 1-859-485-9777 with credit card information.

CLASSIFIED ADS ... FOR 30 WORDS:

$5.00 for each picture

Breeder Ads:

Classifieds - $5 for 1st ad, $2.50 for each ad after that
¼ page ad - $10 each time; if run 3 times, 4th is free
½ page ad - $25 each time; if run 3 times, 4th is free
Full page ad - $60 each time; if run 3 times, 4th is free

Member Ads:

Classifieds - $10 for 1st ad, $5 for each ad after that
¼ page ad - $15 each time; if run 3 times, 4th is free
½ page ad - $30 each time; if run 3 times, 4th is free
Full page ad - $65 each time; if run 3 times, 4th is free

Non-Member Ads:

Classifieds - $20 for 1st ad, $10 for each ad after that
¼ page ad - $25 each to run 1-3 times, $85 to run 4 times
½ page ad - $50 each time
Full page ad - $100 each time

'Want to Buy' Ads: Same as above

Ads with more than 30 words will be charged at the half-price rate for each subsequent 30 words (60 words for a breeder would be $5 + $2.50 = $7.50).

Contact information is NOT included in the word count.

RUNNING FOR BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Any adult member in good standing and willing to attend the yearly conventions may run for Board of Trustees. This is a three-year term of office in which you will serve on Registry committees and attend board meetings. There will be one member at large and three districts up for election each year. Start thinking now about running for the Board for the next term.

POLICY FOR LATE ADS

Advertisers whose ads arrive after the deadline may choose to either wait until the next issue to print their ads and have them posted to the website OR pay an additional $10 fee to have them posted to the website shortly after we receive them. Those ads will then be printed in the next Curly Cues and continue for another 90 days on the website at no additional cost, as long as there are no changes.
