President's Message

By Joan Olson

Fall 2024

Let's talk hooves! These irreplaceable items that are on the bottom of a horse's legs. Without them you have no horse, like the old saying goes, No feet, No horse! Farriers are getting fewer and far between now. The horse needs a schedule to maintain good healthy feet, at least every 2 months with the Farrier. Hooves that are sore and long can seriously affect a horse's gait, causing tripping and limping. Injuries can occur, sometimes that will produce stall rest for long periods of time. Veterinarian bills could add up quickly.

Here in the desert, we tend to lose more hoof than other parts of the country because of the sandy soil. It acts like sandpaper, so we need to keep shoes on some to keep the hoof healthy. Some of our Curlies do not need shoes at all, they have such hard feet that there is no wear on any of the four hooves. A lot of times it is the conformation of the horse that will create a loss of hoof wall in certain areas of the hoof.

Be very choosy in your breeding program with animals that have this issue, you may be looking at problems down the line with the offspring. Hope everyone's Fall and Winter will be easy on the pocketbook, enjoy the cooler weather!

So, we are going to be having our Annual Convention Call this month. Details are published in this Curly Cues. Please join us with any questions that you might have concerning your Curlies or the Registry.

Your ABC President,

Joan Olson

Research Study on Body Score

Dear Member,

we would like to inform you that Mad Barn and the University of Guelph are working to collect photos of horses for a research study on body condition.

The goal of this project is to develop a free body condition scoring tool for horse owners around the world to monitor and track their horse's condition.

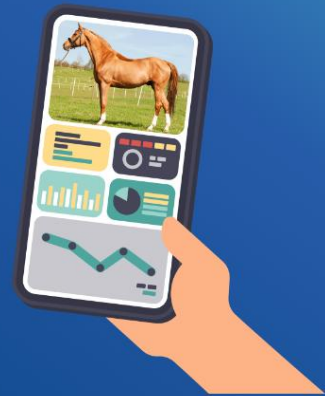

To develop this tool, the researchers need to collect 10,000 photos of individual horses, representing all types, sizes and conditions. They want to make sure the tool is accurate for every type of horse breed, which means they need to collect hundreds of photos of horses from each breed.

To participate in this study, please submit your horse's photo at this link: <https://madbarn.com/body-condition-research/>. This form is easy to use and only takes a few minutes to complete.

Thank you for supporting this important research project! If you have any questions, you can reach out to info@madbarn.com for more information.

Historical Curly Articles from Western Horseman

This time, we are featuring an article about the Kugler Curly Horses from December 1986. Enjoy!

Glen Kugler with Beethoven and Buck.

Kugler's Curlies

WHEN GLEN Kugler of Dayton, Ore., started raising Curly horses, not many folks had even heard of them. "I first spotted a wild horse with a curly coat when I was a kid in Wyoming," Glen says. "Then in 1957 I finally found a mare and colt with the characteristics I wanted. That was Old Sue. Eighty percent of the 20 foals she dropped were curly."

Susanne Swanson, who wrote about the Curlies in Western Horseman (October 1960), was one who encouraged Glen and other Curly owners to begin a registry. The American Bashkir Curly Glen and Esther with their dog Trixie.

(ABC) Registry was started in 1971 in Ely, Nev., partly to bring recognition and even safety to the unusual curly-coated horses. Some breeders felt the curly coat, which can range from tight kinky curls to a marcel waved look, marked the horses as genetically defective, and many Curlies were destroyed.

Today there are around 385 Curlies registered in the United States. Many are double-registered, as Curlies have necessarily been crossed with other breeds to help preserve and build their numbers. They come in all colors—some even with Appaloosa and pinto markings.

Glen, who retired in 1979 after 36 years with Union Pacific as an engineer, maintains a herd of 17 Curlies. He and his wife Esther have also run Riverwood Ranch in Dayton for 17 years. And Glen served as charter president of the ABC Registry for four years. He also owns Peter J, the first registered Curly, purchased from the Damele Ranch in Nevada.

Visitors and buyers have come from as far as New York, Michigan, Alaska, and Canada to see the Kugler Curlies. Inquiries have even come from Singapore and Mexico City.

Glen farms around 100 acres, growing oats, vetch, and grass (he says the horses prefer the vetch). He also puts up about 100 tons of hay a season by himself, mowing, raking, and baling, getting some help for the stacking.

Glen's Curlies have a terrific craving for apples, when the fruit is in season, and they also enjoy plums.

Raising horses and putting up hay is hard work, however, and Glen admits to being a little tired. "When most of these Curlies are placed, in a few years, I may retire from ranching," he says.

But for now, the Kuglers are enjoying their horses and continue to promote them.

"All I said was, you can shoot off of any horse... at least once."

District 1 Report

Joan Olson, Representative

Here at High Desert Equine, we have bred 2 mares, 1 trotting and 1 curly foxtrotter for next year's foaling season. The decision to start earlier next year was an easy one to make since we have trouble getting some of the mares to take and needed to rebreed. We tried for 3 but no luck with the last mare who is a little bit older. She was Vet checked and everything was ok so maybe next year. I will be doing a Trail Equitation Course Clinic with my Curly "Chili", StagCreek Chante Olewan in October. I have started riding my Curly gelding FloraLake Monte who I will hopefully be showing in Dressage soon. Our Curly Foxtrotting Filly "Roni", HD Pride's Veronika is growing up fast and will soon be weaned from Mom.

District 1's other main Curly Breeder is Tiffany Beechinoor. Tiffany and her Curly gelding Takoda Moon (aka. Tucker) have been having a great year competing in California State Horsemen Association (CSHA) Obstacle Challenges. They have just finished competing in the Advanced division for the series in Copperopolis at the Bridlewood Equestrian Center, winning the division High Point and a buckle. Tiffany and Tucker have also qualified for the CSHA Obstacle Challenge State Championships on October 19th and 20th in Santa Cruz. I am super excited to go and compete and see how we do in the Advanced division. In July Tucker and I competed in a CSHA Trail Trials at Goat Meadows near Yosemite in the Advanced division and won High point for the weekend and a buckle. At the end of June, we went to a Cowboy Challenge in Mariposa and won a buckle in the Advanced division as well. We have had a wonderful year so far competing and have 2 more competitions to go in for the year.

Canadian Heritage Horse Association and Preservation (CHHAPS) had an even for 100 days. It was to encourage people to spend 100 hours with their horse. Caring for them, riding, etc. I formed a little group called 'Curly Galore'. I thought as a team we could do the 100 hours, but I was wrong. Anyway, the group did a good job! Members were : Me, Tiffany Beechinor (highest time- 84!), Melinda Martino (won a prize), Joan Olson, Angie Gaines, Patti Porter, and Laura Howell. Thanks to all who joined in!

District 7 Report

District 7 is currently in a period of a renaissance. We welcome Sarah Fleming Lewan back as a second generation breeder from Tennessee. We also have a new breeder/owner in Morgantown Kentucky who has started a breeding program. We have a Curly mare in Lexington being ridden in Combined Training events and performing well. And of course, Marion continues to breed and sell curlies around the world.

As for the rest of District 7, we have new members in Chesapeake Virginia and Locust Grove Georgia. We also have a Breeder in Odessa Florida.

Which means, we have a representative in 50% of the district. It is progress!

ABCR Convention 2024

District 8, Canada and Alaska Report

Sonja Oakes, Representative

It is hard to believe that fall is well underway, especially with the weather giving no indication that fall is here. Aside from the salmon running and the leaves turning colour, the temperature here in Ontario is still too hot to be comfortable...I know I'll regret writing this when the snow starts to fly in a few weeks!

It has been a busy year here and we have had a couple of spectacular foals, all Curly and growing well.

We have placed a couple of our Curly geldings in a new home where they are being trained for polo, really exciting to see how they will perform on the polo field.

I have had a fair number of enquiries over the summer, from Alaska, the States and Canada. If I had 100 bomb proof, 15+H starter Curlies available, I might be a rich person! I see a trend that a lot of people my age (55+) are looking at getting a horse for the first time and want all of the bells and whistles. Many of the calls are from people who have allergies.

We rarely have unicorns for sale - the time and energy it takes to train a horse and take it out and just put the hours on it to be that quiet doesn't make it feasible. When they are just that quiet and well behaved, we could never part with them because they are an integral part of our family and our Equine Assisted work.

As well, there seems to be demand for semen from well bred Curly stallions. I have been referring people to our known breeders for more information on that. Elana has been to Texas for training in Equine Reproduction and we have also connected with an Equine Repro vet here in Ontario with the idea of offering fresh and frozen semen this coming spring.

Please let me know what you are doing with your Curly Horses up here in the North - shows, parades, trail rides, foals, Curly Horse experiences. It is always a pleasure to meet and talk with other Curly Horse owners.

Wishing everyone a Happy Thanksgiving and lots of quality time with their Curly Horses.
